

TROLLEY COMPANY IS MAKING MONEY AGAIN ITS REPORT SHOWS

Net Corporate Income For Three Summer Months Under Six Cent Fare Was $9,381.

The report of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company for the quarter ended Sept. 30, as made to the Public Service Commission, Second District, shows a net profit of $9,381. If this were a fair average, a year's net income would be over $37,000, but the quarter just reported is probably the most profitable of any as it includes the heavy summer traffic. The 6-cent fare was put into operation for one year, the Public Service Commission having power to put the company back on a 5-cent basis after that period. The reports follow:

Railway operating revenues	$61,606
Railway operating expenses	40,711
Net operating revenue	$20,896
Taxes assignable to railway operations	2,952
Operating income	$17,942
Non-operating income	50
Gross income	$17,993
Deductions from gross income:
Interest on funded debt	$ 8,534
Interest on unfunded debt	60
Other deductions	18
Total deductions from gross income	8,612
Net corporate income	$ 9,381

The Poughkeepsie and Wappingers Falls Railway Company, for the same quarter shows a net corporate loss of $181.

CUMMINS RATE BILL VETOED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 18.—President Wilson today vetoed the Cummins bill restoring the railroad rate-making powers to the interstate commerce commission.
Speaking of the veto, Senator Cummins said:
"The measure has hung fire so long that it is of but little consequence. I do not contemplate any action to pass the measure over the president's veto. Circumstances make it practically impossible to take any action until next month. By that time the intervening period until the railroads are turned back to their private owners would be so short that the provisions of the bill would have little effect."
"The passage of permanent legislation would nullify the effect of the measure. We hope to have the permanent legislation passed as soon as possible."

MARTENS MAY BE DEPORTED

Russian Soviet "Ambassador" a German When He Came Here—Wrote Lenin and Became Russian—Says He Spreads Red Propaganda Which Aims at Overthrow of All Governments.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 18.—Ludwig Martens, Russian Soviet ambassador to the United States, may be deported as a result of sensational admissions he made upon the witness stand before the Lusk legislative committee. Officials today declared that Martens' testimony revealed sufficient ground for deportation. He confessed that he had been instrumental in spreading Lenin's propaganda and admitted that he was a subject of Germany when he came to the United States, but had failed to register as an alien enemy.
The aims of the Russian Bolsheviks were fully set forth by Martens. He declared Lenin and Trotsky aim at world-wide revolution and the overthrow of all governments. The connection between the Bolsheviks and the Communists was also revealed. Martens admitted that a circular letter, written by Lenin, appealing to the proletariat to rise in revolt, had been copied by the Communists and used by them for propaganda.
Martens explained that he had secured "Russian citizenship" under the Soviet regime by letter.
"An honest man can secure Russian Bolshevik citizenship papers merely by writing to Lenin at Moscow," said he.

HOPE TO HEAR HINDENBURG YET

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, Nov. 18.—The war guilt commission of the national assembly has not given up hope of taking testimony from Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff despite the Pan-German demonstrations that hailed the appearance of the former chiefs of staff in Berlin. However, in view of the stimulus that the demonstrations gave to the monarchists, it is probable that it will be ten days or two weeks before the former army chiefs are put upon the witness stands.
Nationalist feeling is running high. The "left" in the national assembly threatens a general strike attendant with bloodshed if the Socialist government is overthrown and political tension is rapidly nearing the breaking point.

KANSAS TAKES OVER COAL MINES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Topeka, Kansas, Nov. 18.—The large coal mining properties of Cherokee and Crawford counties are today under the control of the state of Kansas, following issuance of orders by the state supreme court naming receivers for the properties. The court's action followed filing of quo warranto proceedings by Attorney General Hopkins to bring about the receivership.
Approximately 150 miles in the Pittsburgh district, comprising about 55 per cent of the coal producing interests of the state, are affected by the court order, according to state officials.

HERBERT CARL APPEALS TO THE PUBLIC TO AID CAMPAIGN AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

To THE PUBLIC:

Very reluctantly I accepted the chairmanship of the county campaign for the urgent need of funds for the enlargement of our Tubercular Hospital and the work of caring for those suffering from this terrible plague throughout our county. To satisfy myself of the need of this campaign I spent Friday, the 15th, with Miss Brown, our county nurse, visiting a few homes, and if I could bring the picture to you as I saw it you would not hesitate to aid to the limit of your ability with money or service. You could see no greater need in France, Belgium, Italy or anywhere overseas.

I have no word against what we have done to alleviate their suffering, but just now let us think of our home county. Some of our boys have returned with this dread disease fastened upon them. They must have our care. The present capacity of our hospital is inadequate.

We must protect our children and our children's children from the terrible infection that lurks in the homes, on our streets and many inconceivable places. The supreme effort must be made to stamp it out, so that this ever-present dreaded barrage is not hovering over us.

I appeal to you in behalf of the suffering, fathers, mothers and children, to be ready to give according to their means. This is not only the greatest of charity, but a great economical proposition, as it costs the United States five hundred million dollars annually, and affects every merchant, manufacturer, banking institution and home, and you are going to be asked to join the Limit Club and buy a one hundred dollar health bond, which will pay you the largest dividend of any investment, and remember this charity will be credited on your Income Tax.

IT'S HARD TO PICK A NAME

But a Good Attendance is Promised at C. of C. Dinner to Celebrate Good Results and Mobilize for Future Work.

Members of the Travelers' Club are showing their great interest in Kingston and their wish for close cooperation with the Kingston Chamber of Commerce by making every kind of special arrangements and revision of their traveling schedules that will bring them here for the Friends and Neighbors Dinner at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Thursday evening at 6:30.
Vice President McVair, of the Travelers' Club, says that at least thirty of the members of the club will be here for the dinner. This means a vast amount of effort on the part of many of these men and in some cases the traveling of long distances. No finer expression could be found of Kingston spirit and loyalty than is being shown by these new friends and neighbors who are carrying the fame of Kingston throughout the east.
Another example of the way in which this idea of a friends and neighbors dinner is taking hold of the people of Kingston and the surrounding country is found in the request of E. B. Miller, of the Roxmor Inn at Woodland, noted for its famous beefsteak dinners, to have four tickets reserved for representatives of Phoenixia. Mr. Miller is a director of the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association and is one of the men interested in the formation of a board of trade at Phoenixia.
If this dinner had not already been set down as a friends and neighbors dinner, it would be hard to tell whether it should be called a celebration dinner or a mobilization dinner.

It is a celebration of hard work by the Chamber of Commerce in the last two months and of good results that have followed this hard work. It is a celebration of friendship and cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce with the Ulster County Society, the Catskill-Shawangunk Association, the Travelers' Club and the people of Ulster county and the manufacturers who have come to Kingston.
It is a mobilization of a combination of forces that means bigger and better things for this city, for this county and this region.
But after all, it is best called a friends and neighbors dinner, for these words describe the spirit in which these things are being done.
Chairman Watts, of the dinner committee, especially requests that reservations shall be made at once to the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, phone 504, so that the dinner committee may know how many plates to have prepared and so that Chairman W. S. Edging, of the committee on dinner arrangements, may know what provisions may need to be made.
Returns to date from Kingston and the surrounding country assure the presence of a crowd of friends and neighbors that no one will want to miss the pleasure of meeting.
It is best to follow Chairman Watts' advice and call up the Chamber of Commerce at once.

LAUNCHED DRY DOCK TODAY

The first section of the big dry dock under construction at the Island Dock shipyard of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation, was successfully launched shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. The launching was without unusual incident. In order to give the dry dock plenty of room the Cornell Line late Monday afternoon towed the Oswego and a tug that were berthed on that side of the Island Dock to the Cornell Dock back of the office on Ferry street. As the dock took the water it drifted down toward the Cornell Line dock with the wind. The tug Rob towed the big dock up the creek and moored her alongside the Island Dock. The dock is being built in eight sections of which the one launched today was the first completed.

SIX DEAD BODIES IN AUTO CARRIED HALF MILE BY N. Y. C. FLYER

One Man and Six Young Women Nurses Victims of Crossing Accident at Buffalo.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Seven persons, one man and six young women were instantly killed, at 1:30 o'clock this morning when the Chicago flyer of the New York Central struck an automobile in which they were riding at a street crossing in Cheektowaga, just outside the Buffalo city line.
The dead are:
William Mummery, 354 Baynes street; Doris Mummery, his daughter; Margaret Brees, aged 23, No. 61 Lancaster avenue; Mabel K. Hodgins, aged 25, No. 1 Centre street, St. Catharines, Ont.; Jessie McMillan, Tavistock, Ont.; Myrtle Nunn, aged 27, Fenwick, Ont.; Jean Scott, aged 24, No. 5 Bond street, Galt, Ont.
The auto in which the party was riding was carried down the tracks half a mile and six of the bodies were found in it when the train was stopped.
All of the young women except one were nurses, at the Buffalo Homeopathic Hospital and the other young woman had formerly held a position as nurse there. They had gone to a reception at Lancaster early in the evening in an auto driven by a brother of Margaret Brees, one of the dead girls. His machine broke down after the party had arrived at the residence where the reception was to be held and Miss Mummery telephoned to her father to come to Lancaster. When the machine reached the New York Central crossing at Harlem avenue, Cheektowaga, a freight train was passing and Mr. Mummery waited.
After the freight had cleared the crossing he started the machine. It is believed he had just reached the center of the track on which the flyer was speeding when the collision occurred. The engineer was unable to bring the train to a stop within half a mile.

Paris, Nov. 18.—Nothing below the knee and nothing above the waist is the latest style of the new evening gown which has made its appearance in the fashionable tango palaces. The material of the modelled gown is very shiny and gauzy. Conservative writers in the press say that the winter styles will even outdo the "wildness" days of Empress Josephine.

FESSENDEN SHIRT COMPANY PURCHASES CRISPELL BUILDING

Will Remodel it For Factory Purposes and Move There From the Kingston Factory Corporation Building About February 1.

The property of H. S. Crispell, located on Field Court, now occupied by the H. S. Crispell Company, wholesale druggists, has been purchased by the Fessenden Shirt Company. The new owners will immediately institute work on the four story brick building, remodeling it and placing it in shape for shirt factory purposes.
It is anticipated that the building will be ready for occupation by the new owners by February first. When all of the improvements are completed it will be one of the most modern factory buildings in the city. Lunch rooms and recreation rooms will be installed and other conveniences for the employees will be arranged.
At present the Fessenden Shirt Factory is located in the Kingston Factory Corporation building on Cornell street. The Crispell building is a four story brick building, substantially built and will make an excellent building for manufacturing purposes. The building has a frontage of about 60 feet with a depth of approximately 125 feet. The Fessenden Shirt Company will move its entire plant from the present location to the new building as soon as the improvements are completed.

OPERATORS WOULD GIVE MINERS EXCESS PROFITS

By Latest Plan—Garfield Tells Both Sides Speed is Necessary—Kansas Situation Prods Operators to Effort at Unity But Quick Settlement Seems Improbable.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 18.—Uncle Sam will pay the bill for the coal miners' increased wages, if the latest proposition of the operators is successful.

Operators, meeting in secret session here today, had practically agreed to grant wage increases to the miners, equal to the excess profits which they had last year and which were taxable.

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, federal fuel administrator, this morning called the miners into conference and told them the public and the government demanded quick settlement and fair dealing for all parties concerned. He warned them that the public would stand for no unnecessary delay. This afternoon Dr. Garfield will give the same message to the operators.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Negotiations for the settlement of the controversy between coal miners and operators today were awaiting a settlement of differences between the operators themselves.

For nearly three days the operators have been in session in an attempt to agree on a counter proposition to make to the miners' demands. Although they hoped to have their proposals in shape for presentation today there was some doubt of it. It is understood that the operators are divided on the question of advances in wages, which must be borne by the public. They fear that increases which would pinch the public would create a storm of furor which would be directed against the operators and not the miners.

While the operators are adjusting their own differences, the representatives of the miners are unengaged and are using every advantage possible to strengthen their cause. Complaints have been made by the miners that the attorney general that operators in some fields are restricting production in order to fight the union. The miners also have been busy making their peace with the American Federation of Labor and explaining why they obeyed the courts after the executive council of the labor body had announced a program in defiance of the courts.

There were slight hopes today of any speedy settlement. Indications pointed to long drawn out conferences with both sides fighting sharply for every advantage.

Aroused by the action of Governor Allen of Kansas, in taking over the coal mines in that state, the operators today were speeding up their work in an effort to secure some definite proposition to make to the miners. Behind closed doors they "cleaned house" and fought hard for united co-operation which would lead to quick action.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, said he had received new evidence of discriminations by operators against union miners returning to work in Utah, New Mexico, Washington and New Mexico, which he would lay before the attorney general, Percy Taylor, statistician for the United Mine Workers, was today in conference with officials of the department of justice, giving them all information in his possession.

Senators of Both Factions Think Ratification May Be Made by End of Week With Reservations and Preamble Charged.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 18.—A compromise resulting in ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany with reservations satisfactory to two-thirds of the senate was regarded by many Republican and Democratic senators today as not improbable before the end of the week.

Leaders of the so-called "mild reservationists" on the Republican side were willing to agree, they said, to the first reservation, originally described as "the preamble," being eliminated or "toned down" if the rest of the majority reservations were permitted to stand.

The first reservation provides that whatever reservations the senate adopts as a condition of ratification shall receive the written assent of three of the four big powers—Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan—with which the United States was associated in the world war.

Senator Hitchcock, the administration leader, following his conference with President Wilson yesterday, said that while the president did not object to all of the majority reservations, he was opposed to the so-called "preamble."

"If that is all that stands in the way of ratification, it would be better to have the 'preamble' modified than have the treaty defeated," Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, a leader of the "mild reservationists," said.

A change in the phraseology of the reservation covering Article 10 of the league of nations covenant, that involving the preservation of the territorial integrity and the political independence of league members, may also be agreed to as part of the proposed compromise.

The senate was to dispose of the last of the proposed reservations today, and then Senator Lodge was expected to call up the majority resolution of ratification tomorrow or Thursday.

MISS KEARNEY TO PLAY SOLO

Through an error on the part of the reporter, who misunderstood the matter, it was stated in Monday evening's Freeman that Miss Katherine Kearney was to play the accompaniments at the Community Sing tonight at the high school. It seems that instead Miss Kearney is to be the soloist for the evening and will play Schumann's Arabesque, which will mean that her many friends will be delighted to have the privilege of listening to this talented young lady, in this delightful Schumann number. It is as soloists that Mr. Dodge hopes to have the gifted musicians of our city, especially the youthful ones appear from time to time at the stage. This will prove a pleasure to the choruses and also a decided advantage to the young people themselves who will thus gain the desired poise and composure so necessary for successful public performances. New songs as well as the special Christmas music will be sung tonight.

WAR RISK CASES HANDLED QUICKLY

The speed and precision with which the Bureau of War Risk Insurance is handling cases calling for the payment of insurance under the total and permanent disability feature of the law were emphasized in an unexpectedly substantial manner to a group of wounded men who are patients at Walter Reed Hospital during the course of a visit to the bureau
at the invitation of Director R. G.
Cholmeley-Jones.

When the men reached the bureau in the morning they were unaware that their condition warranted payment of insurance on the policies which they held at the time they were wounded in France on account of total and permanent disability.
Still less did they anticipate that within a few hours they could be examined by medical officers, awarded insurance and handed checks ranging from $438 67 to $888 47, covering insurance due them from the date of their injuries, to take with them when they returned to the hospital. Yet this is exactly what happened.

The names of the men and a summary of their cases follow:
Eugene J. Morill, Private, Company M, 130th Infantry. Wounded at Albert, France, July 18, 1918, by a high explosive shell. Suffered amputation of left leg and loss of left eye. Private Morill carried a war risk insurance policy for $10,000.
He was handed a check for $888 47,
and will receive insurance payments
of $57 50 per month as long as he lives.

Rolla Lee Tibbetts, Private, Company E, 47th Infantry. Wounded at Verdun, France, September 24, 1918,
by a high explosive shell. Suffered amputation of left leg, wound in left arm and wounds on nose and face.
Private Tibbetts carried a war risk insurance policy for $10,000. He received a check for $760 92 and will receive insurance payments of $57 50 per month as long as he lives.
James E. Harlan, Private, Machine Gun Battalion of 140th Infantry.
Wounded at Verdun, France, by a high explosive shell September 28, 1918. Adjudged permanently and totally disabled. Private Harlan carried a war risk insurance policy for $10,000. He was given a check for $763 25, and will receive insurance payments of $57 50 per month
as long as he lives.

Robert A. Wolford, Private, Company C, 211th Machine Gun Battalion. Wounded at the Battle of the Argonne, France, November 1, 1918,
by a high explosive shell. Suffered amputation of left leg and wound in left arm. Private Wolford carried a war risk insurance policy for $10,- 000. He received a check for $690
and will receive insurance payments
of $57 50 per month as long as he lives.

Bartolo Lombardo, Private, Company K, 26th Battery. Wounded at Verdun, France, July 24, 1918, by a high explosive shell. Suffered amputation of left leg, and wound in right ankle. Private Bartolo carried $10,- 000 war risk insurance. He received $877 34 and will receive insurance payments of $57 50 per month as long as he lives.

Other wounded men from Walter Reed are scheduled to receive similar speedy delivery of checks on their insurance policies today, and the work is to be continued by a committee appointed by Director Chol-meley-Jones until all the men entitled to payments of insurance for permanent and total disability have been found and given the money to which they are entitled under their policies.

All of the men who hold war risk insurance policies and who are entitled to payments of insurance for total and permanent disability will receive "compensation" in addition to their insurance money after discharge from the service. They would have received "compensation" automatically and regardless of whether they carried any war risk insurance, but they would not have received the insurance money if they had not carried insurance policies.

When one carries a war risk insurance policy and becomes totally and permanently disabled through sickness or injury, he becomes eligible to receive monthly payments of insurance from the date of his disability and as long as he lives. He does not have to pay any more premiums. Every former service man or service woman who keeps up his or her government insurance will have this protection against possible total permanent disability, which may occur to anyone at any time
from a variety of causes.

When a member of the military or naval forces bought war risk insurance he purchased straight life insurance with the added proviso, without increase in premiums, that the insurance would mature and become payable to the insured in the event that he became totally and permanently disabled. Few people appear to realize that insurance is entirely separate from "compensation," the latter being provided irrespective of whether or not a man purchased insurance.

HIS FACE HIS FORTUNE.

There is a theory that the male human has need only of quality and strength and comeliness is superfluous, even undesirable. This theory—a manifest exaggeration of a certain amount of basic truth behind it—is brought to attention by the decision of the United States Supreme Court that a man may defend a vested right to pecuniary value if not to a fortune in his face. The New York legislature provided in its compensation law that awards might be made up to $3,500 for industrial accidents which were purely facial disfigurements. Challenging this provision in cases where the misfortune did not impair manual working capacity, an industrial casualty company held that in such cases it was beyond the province of industrial compensation. And now the Federal Court has upheld New York's law.

Obviously the law is just. Ordinarily a man's face cannot be his fortune to the extent that a woman's is, but male pulchritude is unquestionably an asset, for while good looks may help a man to get a job, facial disfigurement will certainly handicap him. Therefore he deserves redress if an accident in his workshop should leave an unsightly scar across his cheek. Such a scar would absolutely destroy the earning capacity of some men. Take the male stars of the "movie" firmament as an example. How long would a Wallace Reid or a Eugene O'Brien remain an idol of the matinee girl after an incurable face-scarring accident? In a few instances at least it may be said of even a man that his face is his fortune.

THE CRAVING FOR CONTRAST.

There are artists who say it is not their desire or purpose to produce beauty, but merely to suggest beauty, and, judging by their pictures, they undertake to suggest beauty by producing ugliness. This theory of art is called to mind by the return of a man and his wife after seven years of residence in one of the most peaceful and beautiful of the Caribbean Islands. On landing in New York, after shaking the dust of their terrestrial paradise from their feet, the wife said she wanted an old-fashioned New England winter and the husband said: "It was great for a while, but finally it got too dod-blasted beautiful. We are going back to Connecticut to see some rocks and barren fields." Similarly affected, a Southern woman after long residence in Cuba some years ago remarked that the unchanging green of the "pearl of the Antilles" reminded her of the fixed smile of a pretty but simple and socially untrained young girl.

Beauty in large and continuous doses may get on one's nerves. Of course the artists or near-artists who will not tolerate beauty except as "suggested" by ugliness carry their theory to preposterous extremes, but there is a true idea at the basis of that theory. In art as in life and in nature there is need of contrast. Beauty alone will pall, for it is to go to the industrial home. This meeting will be led by the president and vice president. A party of young people attended the dance at Epiphany Saturday evening.

would make the drive all alone. The people had something to say about legislation of this sort when they voted and after the Governor had asked them to elect Democrats to the Assembly so that he could carry out his social welfare program. There may be some good in his suggestion but it is a certainty that the Republican majority will not, in the face of the people's voice, swallow this subject whole, just to let the Governor have his say. Drives have been popular but there is danger of the people being over-driven, and the Governor may find this out.

The Scotch Humorist and Poet.

Mr. Heron is the Peer of Scotch story tellers of America. He can entertain an audience for hours with his humorous stories and vigorous virile patriotic verse.

This Is What The Toronto Star
Says of "James Heron"

James Heron was the spell binder of the evening, his patriotic and humorous recitations was the piece-de-resistance, his version of the Scotchman's greeting to the Kaiser was ex-cruciatingly funny—so much so that the entire audience was in a continuous convulsion.

The "Autometric" Carburetor

YALE

Made by The Yale & Towne Mfg.
STAMFORD CONNECTICUT

What is Gasoline Economy?

DOES it mean getting 5% more mileage from the gasoline you burn? Or running 2 1/2 miles on the amount of gas you used to burn in going 2 miles?

That's not what we mean. We mean real economy—something worth while. The kind of economy your pocket-book appreciates.

We mean getting 4 miles out of your gasoline instead of 3.

This kind of economy
4 miles
5 miles

Or making 5 trips into town and back, instead of 4—and on the same amount of gas.

Like this:  That's worth talking about!

That's the kind of economy you get with an "Autometric" Carburetor, made by The Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company.

The "Autometric" Carburetor will give you: 4 to 20% more mileage from your gasoline at low speed. 10 to 30% more mileage from your gasoline at intermediate speed. (The speed you drive 90% of the time.) 10 to 20% more mileage from your gasoline at high speed. 10 to 15% more mileage from your gasoline at maximum.

Because the "Autometric" Carburetor provides the correct mixture for all speeds for any car. No more fuel is burned than is actually necessary at whatever speed you are driving.

And in addition you get more power and greater flexibility of control, at least 20% less gear shifting, and engine vibration is reduced to a minimum.

Let us arrange to have your own expert men put an "Autometric" Carburetor on your car on approval. Then you can prove its economies over other carburetors.

EXTRA SESSION ENDS FOR HOUSE

Record of Work Done During 152 Days Since Session Convened—Formal Adjournment When Senate Finishes Treaty Until Regular Session Begins Dec. 1.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 18.—With announcement from the house majority leaders that the legislative grind in the house for the present, or extraordinary session of the 66th congress, shall cease with the passage of the Esch railroad bill and, possibly the Penrose resolution extending until January 15 next the authority of the war trade board over dye imports, members of the house left Washington today for their homes after 152 days of sessions since May 19. Formal adjournment will not come until the senate disposes of the peace treaty.

Under statutory law the regular session of the 66th congress will convene December 1, and the members will have but a short rest before returning to take up the heavy work of a long general session.

The extra session now waning was called primarily to impress the league of nations covenant and the treaty of peace with Germany, and six appropriation bills that had failed of passage through the 65th congress. The first business dispatched by the house was the passage of these appropriation bills which supplied funds for the army, navy, the agricultural department, the District of Columbia, the Indian bureau and the general sundry civil appropriations.

Among bills the house passed are: Four deficiency appropriation bills. Relinquishment of wire control by the government July 1.

Increasing war risk allowance for loss of eyes and limbs.

Repealing the daylight savings law.

Conferring permanent rank of general on Pershing.

Incorporating the American Legion.

Amending federal reserve law to permit banks to invest in stocks in corporations engaged in financing exports.

Providing federal incorporation for concerns engaged in financing exports.

Appropriating $17,000,000 for completion of the Alaskan Railway.

Amending Lever food control act to punish profiteering by retailers and extending government supervision to wearing apparel and other commodities.

Enforcement of prohibition, both constitutional and war-time.

Railroad legislation for return of the railroads to private owners and extending the powers of the interstate commerce commission.

Restoring the pre-war powers of the interstate commerce commission over railways.

Providing for the releasing of oil and other mineral lands on the public domain.

Providing for the leasing of water power.

Constitutional amendment for woman suffrage.

Regulation of cold storage.

Providing a budget system.

Repeal of Canadian reciprocity act.

Repeal of taxes on soft drinks.

Extending passport control law for a year to regulate immigration.

Closing coastwise trade to foreign vessels.

Providing for deportation of interned aliens and those committed for war offenses.

Omnibus civil war pensions bills.

Appropriating $1,000,000 to fight influenza.

During the session just closing there were about 10,400 bills and 250 resolutions introduced in the house.

Investigations were made of the conduct of the war and war expenditures by the war department, the shipping board, the war bureau, the bureau of industrial housing and transportation, the Mexican situation, the post office department and instructions given to the federal trade commissions to investigate the costs of shoes, sugar and various commodities.

The house excluded from its membership Victor L. Berger, elected from Milwaukee, Wis., on the ground of ineligibility for violating the constitution in "giving aid and comfort to the enemy during the war with Germany," and unseated John F. Fitzgerald, from Massachusetts, for fraud in his election, awarding the seat to Peter F. Tague, Democrat, his opponent.

HERON HERE FRIDAY.

Students May Hear Humorist at Half Price.

James H. Heron, the author-humorist, who will appear in the Fair Street Reformed Church next Friday evening, has consented upon request to give part of the first act of the typical Irish play, "Bunny Pails the Strings," in Kingston, in the fall of 1912. Mr. Heron played the lead part in this play, "Wedding Supper," Bunny's lover. Many people may remember the play and how Bunny pulled all the strings and managed everybody even the "Kirk" (church).

Because of the great reception given Mr. Heron by the students of Kingston high school on his last visit to Kingston, it has been decided to put on some student tickets at half price. Both adult and student tickets are on sale at Ellinger's, Ten Brook's and Wonderly's stores.

Not Decorative.

We often think that women wear too much make-up on their faces and that we see nothing but their artificial features. But when we see a woman without further decoration, now adorned with some little difference that suggests with some grace and charm, we realize that the face is the most important part of the body and that the make-up is only a disguise.

The Calvers of Ancient Syria. Did you ever hear the poem spoken of as the Calvers? Well, years ago, hundreds of years ago, John Mandeville, an Englishman, wrote in a very wonderful book of travels, which some claim is a greatly exaggerated account of what he saw, about the Calvers of Syria, and how men in war times, not daring to send messengers, sent their messages around the neck of a Calver.

This old book was published before printing was invented, and was done by hand.

Books and Ships.

If the invention of the ship was thought as subtle, which carries riches and commodities from place to place, and commodifies the most remote regions in participation of their fruits, how much more are letters to be magnified, which, as ships, pass through the vast seas of time, and make sizes so distant participants of the wisdom, illustrations, and inventions, the one of the other.—Sir Walter Raleigh.

Brunettes Have First Call.

Dark-haired people, on days of emergency, get answered sooner than fair-haired individuals. It has been shown by statistics that an overwhelming majority of those women who are and the squatters have fair hair.

and Negro.

Agreeing with Mr. Smith, whose article appeared in Tuesday's issue,
"There is a place for the negro but not as the white man's equal," allow me to state a few differences as why the negro cannot be the white man's equal, and at the same time tell Jan Bertrand, whose reply in the following issue, some facts about her aucestors.

She says the negro is not willing to go back to Africa, the land of his ancestor, and asks if we are willing to go back to ours. Perhaps we are not willing, for we love our country too dearly, but if we did, we would at least be returning to a civilized country. Naturally the negro would not now give up civilization and return to savagery.

She claims that in fifty years the negro has advanced as far as the white man whose civilization required hundreds of years. Perhaps she hasn't yet learned that the white man was always civilized to a certain degree, and never a savage in the sense the negro was. And hasn't it been said for the negro? With civilization advanced as it was, he need only open his eyes and follow in the footsteps of the white man, who opened and broadened the road for him.

Had the negroes been a poor downtrodden people, trampled under the heels of the mighty, they would be justified in protesting against their oppressors; but they were a savage race, living in the wilds of a country, that even to this day is impenetrable.

Then to whom do they owe their freedom, education, all that they are today, but to the white man who released them from the chains of barbarism? Who gave them a helping hand and lifted them up to the first rung of the ladder of civilization?

Yet, are they grateful? Would they not cut off the hand that assisted them to rise from savagery to civilization and the knowledge of God?

If the negro spilled blood in the cause of his freedom, has it not been his rain? What was the white man profited by? Yet his blood too was shed.

I have lived in the south and know much about the negro. As a rule, they are lazy and without ambition;
there are exceptions, nevertheless,
they know their place, and respect
the white, who in turn, treat them with respect and kindness.

I know nothing of the trials—the cases referred to, but in my opinion,
every man is deserving of fair trial,
and justice should be meted out equally for murder whether the victim be white or black, all circumstances considered. A negro is human, and deserving of humane treatment.

Since the negro is free, he is subject to the laws of the country, and his duty to pay tax, since he has privilege of public service. Can he expect to thrive in this land at the expense of the white man? Then he should not have fought for freedom. There's not a negro living today who will not say he was happier as a slave on a plantation, than he is now, a free man.

As for their patriotism, why should it be doubtful? Why should they not be loyal to the country that gave them freedom, civilization, education, the country wherein they live and all the praise and honor due him for his services in the world war, but I can't say he is due credit for being the first American to raise our flag over the front line trenches.

Perhaps their freedom is justified,
but I must say the white man of the north made the mistake of his life when he made the negro his near equal by allowing him to mingle, associate and marry with the white.

"They will soon catch up with us." Perhaps, but they have not yet attained the level of the white race.
Where is the negro who made a discovery or an invention? Where is the negro with intelligence enough to handle the present day situations?
It is a difficulty even for men of brains and experience. Any man can be educated, but it requires intelligence to accomplish great things, and that is why the negro's place is not at the head of this country.

He is due a square deal in all things, but he is not the white man's equal.

We can excuse Jane Bertrand, she is yet a school girl and has much to learn.

N. Y. GIVES PRINCE ALL MAY SING AT ROUSING WELCOME POPULAR CONCERT

Landed at Battery at 11 O'clock and rode through cheering throngs to City Hall, where he was given freedom of city—skyscrapers of great interest and reception made him a bit nervous.

New York, Nov. 18.—Edward, Prince of Wales, came to New York today on the final lap of his first American visit and received a welcome which paled even the tremendous ovations with which he was acclaimed in Canada.

From the Battery, where the royal visitor landed, to Grant's Tomb, on the upper stretches of Riverside Drive, New Yorkers turned out to give the youthful heir to Britain's throne a vociferous and wholly American greeting.

The royal party landed at the Battery after 11 o'clock, over the deep Broadway canyon between towering skyscrapers on each side, the party drove to the city hall, thousands lined the curbs and fought with the police to get better vantage points. From the office windows high above the street there was a torrent of ticker tape, torn newspapers and confetti thrown down on the slowly moving procession.

When the prince's car reached City Hall it looked like it had been through a snow storm. The prince did not exactly understand it all at first. He sat in his car and viewed with amazement the fluttering storm of paper. Then he seemed to grasp the fact that it was a carnival affair and by the time the party had reached Wall street he was on his feet, saluting right and left, and smiling and waving to the thousands of girl clerks who jammed the windows. He apparently enjoyed it immensely.

The prince exchanged greetings with the crowd until the lofty dome of the Woolworth building broke into view and right then and there England's future king lost interest in the crowd and gazed upward at the huge building. It was the tallest building he had ever seen and he had hard work tearing his eyes from it the rest of the way to city hall. He was frank in his staring and he even turned and stole a couple of more looks while going up the steps of the hall. Crowds were old stuff to the Prince of Wales. He had been surfeited with them for months—all his life. But he had never seen in his royal young life a building that went almost out of sight into the misty haze which hung over lower Manhattan today. He saluted mechanically and kept his eyes on the gilded tower.

The crowd applauded and laughed with him while he frankly gazed. The royal party was met by Mayor Hylan's reception committee, headed by Rodman Wana-maker, at Jersey City. All the way across the river to the Battery the prince stood in the bow of a fast little launch and stared at the high-flying buildings that make New York's skyline world famous. He frequently nudged his aides, few of whom had been to the states before, and pointed to one building after another.

A crowd that swayed for blocks about the city hall greeted him there. Hundreds of police were necessary to keep them back. Women predominated and ragged the police to get closer.

When the prince finally made his escape into the quiet precincts of the hall, Mayor Hylan met him and took him to the official reception room where he was formally welcomed by the mayor and by Francis Hugo, secretary of the state of New York.

He was presented with a huge American flag and the freedom of the city.

The prince was distinctly nervous on account of the noise and unprecedented reception which he had received all the way along the line. "I am proud to have been made a free man of the city of New York, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me," he said.

"It is a happy coincidence that the last recipient of this honor should have been Albert, the king of the Belgians, our valiant ally to whose vision and courage in a grave time of trial, the cause of freedom owes so much."

"I already am a freeman of the city of London and it is a special pleasure to now become a free man of New York, because London and New York, both business centers, both great seaports, are so closely connected in the financial business of the world. Upon the stability and prosperity of these two cities depends to an extraordinary degree the welfare of all continents. Were the inter-communication cut for a single business day, the whole affairs of the world would be upset."

This city is not only the gateway to a vast sea-borne traffic, holding in fee the whole Atlantic trade, it also has the wealth and power of a mighty nation at its back.

"Just as it is today the most vivid imagination cannot foresee the bounds to which the power and wealth of this great continent will some day attain."

"I do not feel a stranger here in the United States. I already had many American friends when I came to your country and I learned to appreciate the American spirit from association with officers and men of your splendid divisions in France, in Italy and on the Rhine, and of your splendid battle squadron in the North Sea. I have long looked forward to coming here."

"I like the United States even better than I had anticipated and I know I should like it very much indeed."

"I want through you, Mr. Mayor, to tell all the people how grateful and appreciative I am for the welcome they have accorded me."

Following his official reception at the City Hall, the prince was driven up Fifth avenue to Grant's Tomb where he deposited a wreath.

A private luncheon was served on board H. M. S. Memora, on which he will stay while in New York. Tonight a gala performance will be given in the Metropolitan Opera House.

Two Numbers to be Sung By Audience In Addition To Orchestral Numbers And 'Clearwater' Solo.

At the second "Popular Concert," to be given by the Kingston Symphony Orchestra at Keeney's theatre on Sunday afternoon, next, at 3 o'clock, a new feature will be inaugurated which it is felt sure by the management will greatly add to the popularity of these concerts.

Little by little, since our service men have come home to help and inspire us, we are becoming a singing nation. It was noted at the last concert, that during the singing of one of the popular songs as an encore, by the soloist, many in the audience hummed along in the chorus part. This gave rise to the thought, that the audience might well like to have some active as well as passive part in the program of these enjoyable and inspiring concerts. So next Sunday afternoon, there will be two numbers on the program in which the audience will have the pleasure and privilege of singing, under the leadership of Harry P. Dodge, with the orchestral accompaniment, always a very real pleasure. The first group of songs will be three of the Christmas carols which will be a part of our Christmas community music this year, while the second group will consist of three songs, known and loved by everyone. Then in addition to the delightful orchestral numbers rehearsed and ready by the orchestra, Harry Clearwater, our own deservedly popular baritone singer, will be the soloist of the afternoon.

It is high time now to secure your tickets for those concerts. You can buy a single ticket for twenty-five cents, or you can buy a ticket entitling you to a reserved seat for each one of the other five concerts, for $1.25. The tickets are on sale at Winter's music store on John street, The Columbia Shop on Fair street, O'Reilly's news store on Broadway and the Connelly drug store on the corner of Broadway and the Strand.

Peck In Trouble.

It is very easy to get in trouble by appropriating something that don't belong to you as Kenneth Peck 12 year old, of West Union street, ascertained Monday afternoon. While walking down Broadway with another little chap he saw a bicycle standing at the curb in front of the post office, and the two boys helped themselves to the wheel to enjoy a ride. The wheel belonged to Henry Kruse of Third avenue, who when he discovered it missing reported it to Officer Martin. Peck was given a reprimand by the court and discharged with a warning not to repeat.

Dept. of Poor Beat H. C. of L.—Poor Maintenance Apportioned—County Treasurer Reports—Resolutions Introduced.

The board of supervisors got to work in earnest Monday evening, as considerable business was brought to the attention of the members by Clerk Henry R. DeWitt. Reports on various matters were received, among them the annual report of William S. Hartshorn as county superintendent of the poor, who makes a most excellent showing. Although the high cost of living exists in New Paltz, where the county house is situated, he cared for 141 inmates at a cost per capita a day of 27 cents. This is a better showing than the previous year when the cost per capita a day was 36 1/2 cents. On October 31, 1918, he had a balance on hand of $6,742.01, but this year on October 31 he had a balance on hand of very nearly $10,000. Being a first class farmer, Superintendent Hartshorn makes a grand showing in his report of crops and stock raised. He recommends that there be erected as soon as possible a detached hospital at the county house for the care of the sick, such a building being necessary.

Superintendent Hartshorn reported money received from all sources as follows. Balance on hand November 1, 1918, $6,742.01; received from sales November 1, 1918, to October 31, 1918, $3,707.71, amount raised by appropriation, $17,081.39, total, $27,531.11. Bills paid November 1, 1918, to November 1, 1919, $17,848.18. Balance on hand October 31, 1919, $9,967.93. The total number of inmates cared for was 141, with 27,028 days' board chargeable to county, and 1,925 chargeable to county, a total of 28,953 days. The cost of maintenance per capita per day was 27 cents.

It will be necessary to raise outside of the city for the maintenance of the county house for the ensuing year $4,730, as follows: Contingent, $3,500; keeper, $500; physician, $350; chief engineer, $100; matron, $180; chaplain, $100; also for Industrial Home, $1,800. There was a balance of $883.43 in Industrial Home account, October 31, 1918, paid board Stearns children, $27; appropriation received for 1919, $1,800 making a total of $2,710.53; bills paid, $2,121.47; balance October 31, 1919, $589.06.

The expense estimated for the maintenance for town pool for 1920 and apportioned is:

Esopus	$ 331.33
Gardiner	202.50
Hardenbergh	191.43

Shandaken	398.52

There should be added to Wawarsing, $128.71; to Shandaken, $97.07; deducted from Gardiner, $7.66; from Lloyd, $132.86; from Rosendale, $12.00.

That there were enough raised on the farm the past season to keep the inmates from worrying is indicated by the following statement as to crops and stock: Oats, 500 bushels; wheat, 132 bushels; rye, 136 bushels; potatoes, 475 bushels; hay, 75 tons; rye straw, 11 tons, corn, 18 acres; carrots, 20 bushels, turnips, 225 bushels; cabbage, 2,500 heads; beans, 20 bushels, string beans, 36 bushels; also beets, peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, etc. Stock raised was 2 calves, 22 hogs weighing on average about 225 pounds dressed for use; 15 pigs fattened and sold; 150 chickens and 15 turkeys. The report was referred to the Committee on Superintendent of Poor Accounts.

300,000 Maxwells

How they created a demand for the Post-War Maxwell that cannot be fulfilled

THERE is a demand for the Post-War Maxwell that eight great plants cannot fill. More than 40,000 persons who set their minds on having one will have to go without.

The cause for this is due largely to the magnificent performance of the 300,000 previous Maxwells.

They delivered such excellent mileage at such low cost that the great American public learned to know this car.

This unprecedented demand is evidence of its deep rooted appreciation. Then when the Post-War Maxwell came out, with its score or more of refinements and improvements developed during the war, the demand for Maxwell reached a new peak.

100,000 are being built during the current year. 40,000 more readily could be marketed.

Thousands are priding themselves on possessing one of these Post-War models; thousands more will have their hopes filled; thousands will have to go without.

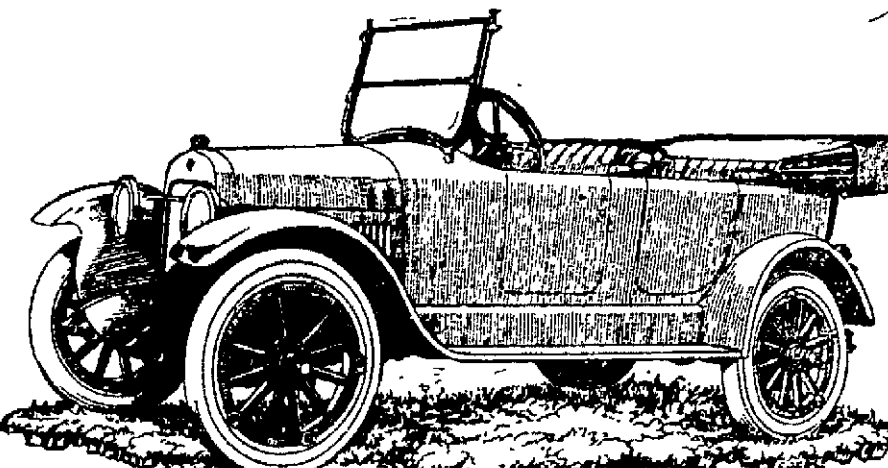

Which class will you be in?

A bushel of nice apples would make a Christmas present worth giving. If you've got the apples, a little ad in The Freeman will find the man who wants to make the gift.

The best argument for right farm buildings is the home pride they create in the owner; they help keep him up to date and strengthen his credit. The children have a pride in the farm and the hired man who works in modern farm buildings is more contented.

Good fencing helps the farmer conserve his forage crops, maintain more and better livestock, reduce the labor necessary for caring for the livestock, reduce the loss of livestock, improve the quality of the land fenced, and bring about many other benefits.

STONE RIDGE CLOTHING COURSE

Begins Tomorrow—Gardner and West Shokan Begin It This Week—Conducted by Ulster County Home Bureau.

In the Grange Hall, beginning at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, the women of Stone Ridge plan to begin their clothing course. These meetings—like the home nursing meetings that were held last spring—are conducted by the Ulster County Home Bureau and directly locally by the Stone Ridge Home Bureau committee with Mrs. C. C. Hardenburgh, chairman, and Mrs. M. C. Van Winkle, Mrs. C. F. Sherman, Katherine Cantone are the other members of the committee.

The subject for the day will be "Remodeling and Renovating of Garments." This will be taken up by Mrs. G. Skinner, formerly of Kingston and a most successful dressmaker of long experience, and Miss Stuart, the Home Bureau manager of Ulster county. Mrs. G. Skinner is a Home Bureau member of Keweenaw. Some of the points to be taken up at this meeting are the selection of patterns, altering patterns to fit the individual, cutting, fitting, making over garments, use of a dress form, etc. Every one is urged to bring garments that they plan to make over and for which they want suggestions. It is expected that actual work in making over clothes will be taken up at this meeting. There will also be a demonstration on the removal of spots and stains.

As with all Home Bureau meetings everyone is cordially invited and urged to attend both the morning and afternoon sessions.

The Stone Ridge Home Bureau committee has been the first one to accept the all day meeting for the clothing course. Last spring their combined Red Cross work with their home nursing course, the women meeting in the morning to sew for the Red Cross and remaining for the home nursing meeting in the afternoon. The lunch hour at these meetings has worked out in a most admirable way. At first each one brought their own lunch, or some brought sandwiches, others cake, etc. With this arrangement they had a lot of food left over to take home so they worked out an excellent system. Now at these meetings a different committee of women furnishes the lunch each time and the work and responsibility is thus divided. This noon hour is always one of the most social features of the day. Other communities in the county are considering adopting the all day meetings for the clothing course because they realize that so much more can be accomplished than by merely one afternoon. Any community will do well to follow the example set up by the Stone Ridge and the system they have worked out.

This clothing course, which begins in the county at Stone Ridge tomorrow, Gardner on Thursday and West Shokan on Friday, is available for any community in the county. For any information concerning this communicate with the Home Bureau office, 43 Crown street, Kingston, in care of Miss L. M. Stuart, Home Bureau Manager. For those not familiar with these clothing meetings the following brief outline is given. This shows some of the points brought out in the four meetings on clothing and the two on millinery.

AND ELLENVILLE WHISKEY DID IT

It Was In a Quart Bottle and When Drank in Newburgh Caused the Arrest of Two Young Men Employed on Shipyard.

Says the Newburgh News: "My brother brought me a quart bottle of whiskey from my home in Ellenville and between Neil and myself we finished it." In these days of prohibition such a statement from a prisoner arraigned for public intoxication and disturbing the public peace is not guaranteed to gain the sympathies of the court. It did not Monday morning before Recorder Jacob A. Decker, and Arthur Coons, 18, single, a printer, who spoke the words, and Neil Hasbrouck, 19, single, a carpenter, who helped slow away the booze, each were fined $5.50.

Both boys are employed in the shipyard and board at 133 Liberty street. Officer William Martin at 12:20 yesterday morning arrested Coons on Colden street. The youth was very boisterous. His friend, Hasbrouck, tried to stop Martin from making the arrest. He, too, was taken in for his troubles. Both shipbuilders pleaded guilty to both charges and Coons paid $5 additional while the charge on Hasbrouck was $10.

Practically broke as a result of their experience, Coons paid $1 and Hasbrouck $2 on account. Both agreed to pay the balance before the sun sets tonight.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Nov. 18.—There will be a three weeks' special evangelistic service held in the Methodist Church beginning on Sunday morning, November 30. Preparatory cottage prayer meetings will be held in different parts of the village. The first cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orson A. Smith, corner Bowen and Salem streets, Wednesday evening, November 19. Let the people remember this and avail themselves of the privilege and be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and family are moving to Red Hook where Mr. Smith is employed on a farm.

As the time for the bringing up the quota for the Red Cross has been extended for one week it is hoped that the quota will be reached both in membership and money. Any in Election District No. 2 who will contribute to make this a success will be doing good service and if they bring their money to the Rev. E. A. Bookhout or call him by telephone, 1949-1, a worker will be sent for the purpose of collecting the money.

A meeting of the Ever Ready Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Fowler, Jr., on Broadway, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 19.

A meeting of the Sunday school board of the Methodist Church will be held in the chapel this evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Martha Van Keuren of Union Center is visiting Mrs. Edward Bishop on Broadway.

Wedding bells will soon ring in our village. Guess who?

Warren K. Van Vleet of New-York city spent the week end at his home on Broadway.

Solomon Coie, who has been employed at Pine Plains, has returned to his home on Broadway.

Earl Preper, who is employed at Pleasantville, spent the week end at his home on Broadway.

Mrs. Grey Secor of Broadway is visiting relatives and friends in New York city and Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eggerstedt have moved from the Onslow home, stand on Riverside avenue to Poughkeepsie.

WORLD SOON DRY PREDICTSWHEELER

England Hardest Nut for "Dry" Owing to Hard Drinking Women—Balkans Showing Desire to Eliminate the "Kick."

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, Nov. 18.—Those seeking climates where there is no danger of interference with the rights of bartenders, are advised to consult real estate agents in the polar regions and jungle sections of Africa. The rest of the world will be "Saharalized" by 1920, Wayne B. Wheeler, "dry" leader and general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, cheerfully predicted today.

Wheeler excepted the jungle precincts in Africa and the Polar regions because they are the only sections not heard from in the reports of "dry" activities. He pointed out, however, that the mail service in those parts has always been poor and maybe it would be just as well to wait a while before packing the furniture. England, he said, may be the last country to join the dry column because of its "hard drinking women."

"We'll get half of Scotland very soon," he said, "but our only hope in England at the present is local option. Our job is made harder by the fact that so many women, chiefly those of the working classes, are inveterate drinkers. Before the war it would have been easier for us. Now the women of the working classes are having one grand, glorious time with their war earnings and the fact that their sex so greatly outnumber the men is giving them the feeling of reckless independence."

"Germany? Well, judging from present conditions, either Germany or England will be the last of the 'wet' nations. With the Kaiser in power we'd have an easier job there because all the Kaiser would have to do would be to issue an edict declaring the nation 'dry' in a democracy they don't do things like that."

"I don't think it will be necessary for our league to send missionaries into Germany. We can depend upon the efficiency of the German temperance societies. They are an efficient lot. Do you know that much of the material we used in the propaganda that put over the eighteenth amendment was gathered by German scientists? The best material in the world to show the evils of booze."

"The Germans are slow thinkers and it will take them several years more to see that even moderate beer drinking is ruinous to a nation."

The Balkan countries are showing extraordinary "dry" activity. Wheeler said. Bulgaria has been imploring the Anti-Saloon League here to send some one like "Pussy-foot" Johnson to help it get rid of the stuff that puts a kick even in Bulgarian buttermilk. With assistance and two years time, the native "drys" say they can make it impossible to develop a "Bulgarian bun."

The KITCHEN CABINET

Not understood, we gather false impressions. And lay them down as the year goes by. My office visitors seem to us that we are not. And then man rises, falls and dies. Not understood.

FOOD FOR THE DAY.

The simplest foods well cooked and served are the most satisfying to the majority of people for every day.

Coconut Bisque.

—Stir one coconut without removing the brown skin cover with one quart of water boiling hot, and let stand until cold.

Strain through a thin cloth, and add the juice of one lemon and sugar to taste. Serve cold, preferably.

Eggs De Lassepe.

—Sauté the eggs in a pan with a small amount of butter, taking care not to break the yolk. Then place them on a hot platter and dust with salt; brown the butter in the frying pan, adding a teaspoonful of vinegar to four eggs, and one teaspoonful of minced parsley. Serve with calves brains that are boiled, seasoned and sautéed in butter, then pour the sauce over the eggs and brains.

Claridge Beef Heart.—Wash and remove pipes from the heart, wipe dry, stuff with an herb stuffing, tie securely and roast for about three hours in a moderate oven. Remove strings, serve hot with gravy poured around.

Stuffing.—Chop one ounce of suet fine, add two cupsful of bread crumbs, one chopped onion; season with parsley, thyme, pepper, salt and bit of grated nutmeg. Mix well and add one whole egg to bind it.

Sauce.—Mix three large ripe tomatoes, two sliced onions, two cupsful of stock, juice of one lemon and a teaspoonful of prepared mustard. Cook 15 minutes, mix with a teaspoonful of cornstarch dissolved in cold water, rub through a sieve, reheat and add a teaspoonful of chopped parsley.

Celery Toast.—Cut tender stalks of celery into thin slices and cook in salted water until tender. Place hot little water so there is none left when cooked. Add cream to cover, season with pepper and salt; add four additional cold milk, mixed to a quite smooth thick. Prepare buttered toast and pour the celery sauce over it. Serve piping hot.

Electric Bell.—A newly designed triple tone electric bell sends a clear ring from one push button, a buzz from the second and a combined ring and buzz from the third. The buttons may be placed on three different doors of a house, or in office or shop the signals may be used for calling three different persons.—Popular Science Monthly.

Thoughtful Billy.

Deadly Foe of Tarantula.

The tarantula killer is a species of wasp whose female is the most effective foe of the tarantula. It alights on the spider's back and penetrates its body with a sting. In a few moments the tarantula is dead. The wasp then deposits an egg in the body and buries it in the ground. The egg changes into a grub which nourishes itself upon the carcass of the tarantula.

MEXICO AGAIN BEFORE CABINET

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 18.—The cabinet today discussed the Mexican situation at some length, according to Secretary of State Lansing, on leaving the meeting.

"We were hampered by lack of reports and couldn't get very far with the discussion," Secretary Lansing said, but refused to go further.

It is understood that the arrest of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent, by Mexican authorities was taken up at some length and the cabinet discussed steps to be taken by this government in the event that reports show as unfounded the charges that Jenkins was kidnapped as part of a conspiracy to discredit the Mexican government.

The coal situation and the proposed industrial conference were also discussed, Secretary Lansing said.

MORE TRAINS TO BE TAKEN OFF

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Nov. 18.—Further curtailing of railway service and a more drastic embargo on freight shipments to save coal, will be decided upon late today at a conference here between Railway Director General
Hines and all the regional directors.

To date more than 100 passenger trains operating out of Chicago have been taken from the schedule. R.
Aishton, regional head of the Northwestern, after declaring that the "seriousness of the situation cannot be minimized," said a fifty per cent cut in passenger service and a heavy embargo on freight shipments was being considered as one means of relieving the situation.

"The way to avert these steps is for the miners to return to work," Aishton added.

A CHILLED TALKER

Anti-League Speaker Given Ride in Refrigerator Car.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Appleton, Minn., Nov. 18.—Former Congressman Ernest Lundeen, who has been touring the state speaking against the "British-Wilson League" landed here last night in a refrigerator car thereby completing an unscheduled and enforced trip from Oretonville, 20 miles distant.

According to the former member of congress he was to have delivered his address at Oretonville last night.

He mounted the platform and on announcing he was to speak on the league of nations was "firmly but politely told he could not speak."

Several men assisted him off the stage and escorting him to the freight yards, locked him in the refrigerator car.

As the train neared Appleton the crew hearing cries coming from the car unlocked it and the ex-congressman tumbled out. He was taken to the caboose, warmed up and put off the train here.

FORD PLANS IRISH INVASION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Cork, Nov. 18.—Henry Ford, famous American automobile manufacturer, is going to extend his activities into the field of public service in Ireland, according to information secured here today. It was learned that a great water driven electric plant will be established here which will not only run Mr. Ford's motor plant but will supply light and power to a number of cities.

That British manufacturing interests are becoming anxious over the "Ford invasion" was shown by the announcement that a great British syndicate is being formed to compete with the Ford plant in the manufacture of both motor cars and farm tractors. The reply of the Ford interests has been to announce that the general manager of the Ford plant in Detroit is coming here to give his personal direction to the Cork factory. He is expected to arrive this week and already a lease has been taken on a house for a year.
He will speed up the production and will develop the electrification of the plant along new lines.

NEW COAL STRIKE

Threatened in Colorado as Coal Production is Resumed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—With coal production gradually reaching normal in Colorado, a new strike of the miners is threatened for Friday of this week, according to announcement by George O. Johnson, president of District 15, United Mine Workers of America. Johnson charges that non-union operators are discriminating against union men and declares the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, the largest operator in the southern fields, is forcing union men to sign pledges of allegiance to the Rockefeller industrial plan before being permitted to resume work. President Welborn of the company denies the charge. The Colorado industrial commission is seeking to adjust the differences.

DARING ROBBERY

Large Sum Obtained From Massachusetts Bank.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Randolph, Mass., Nov. 18.—Finger print experts today took several impressions at the Randolph Savings Bank with the hope that the perpetrators of the daring holdup, in which auto bandits escaped with more than $25,000 in liberty bonds and $6,000
in cash, may be apprehended.
The auto in which the bandits escaped was found not far from West Hills.

The vaults of the bank were looted
by four armed men who bound and gagged the treasurer, his woman assistant and a customer.

Strikers Refused Citizenship.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 18.—Twenty striking coal miners from the Hillboro district were refused citizenship

Jett, in the Montgomery county circuit court, who ruled that the men were striking in violation of the laws of the United States and therefore were "not fit for citizenship."

Traces Origin of the Jag.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, who has looked it up, says that not one case of drunkenness due to whisky or spirits occurred in the world previous to 1100 A. D. Noah did not get drunk on whisky, he got drunk on wine. The Egyptians got drunk on wine and beer. Alexander died drunk and he had never heard of whisky. Egypt and Rome went to the dogs on wine and beer, not whisky. Every demonstration of drunkenness to be found in the Bible, and every case of drunkenness told of in history, refers to wine and beer drunkenness.

READY FOR THE CHILDREN

Time that flies so swiftly for grown-ups, worries along on leaden wings for children, and yet Time with all its blend of swiftness and tardiness, has swung again into the Holiday season.

Christmas is coming again, Christmas most glorious day of all the year to the crystal-pure mind of childhood, when a wonderful Santa Claus with a heart of gold wants eagerly to gratify the heart's desire, whether it be a velocipede or a string of beads—a doll that talks or a shapeless little rag baby meant solely for cuddling. All over the world are little faces turned toward the North, where Santa dwells—and little hands reaching out towards a big round-tummed individual with a rosy smile and a magic pack that contains everything.

The children do not anticipate alone. We, too, anticipate—have anticipated—and to the end that no child shall be disappointed—that every parent shall have ample time to pick from Santa's wares while they are fresh, unhandled and plentiful we, Luckey, Platt & Company, bought toys, thousands of toys, extra early and shall present them to you.

FOOD FOR CREW OF AIRSHIP

The average housewife would hold up her hands in horror at the thought of cooking and providing for thirty men during a four days' aerial voyage.

Yet this was only one of the tasks, and by no means the most important, which confronted the organizers of the It 34's trip to America and back, remarks London Tit-Bits. When it is remembered that the men had to conform to the rigid limitations of the accommodation, the task assumes even more formidable proportions.

While the provisioning of the crew takes a back place, relatively, when compared with the navigation and other scientific arrangements, diet was, nevertheless, a subject requiring the most careful consideration. The digestive organs, if impaired, react at once upon the nervous system, and in an enterprise of such a daring character as the flight nerves had to be tenderly nourished.

The medical department of the air ministry was early consulted and devised a menu consisting mainly of meat, bread, cheese, chocolate, tea, eggs, and potatoes.

Then came the problem of cooking, and the R34 has surely the strangest kitchen existing. Instead of fixing an electrical or other usual type of stove, the hot exhaust gases from one of the motor engines were trapped, and led around a receptacle shaped for boiling or frying, the heat thus obtained being sufficient to meet all the requirements. There were three of these boilers provided alike—two in the fore car to hold three pots, and one in each wing car to hold one and a half gallons. By means of these, soups and hot sustaining drinks were able to be made.

The type of flying clothing provided for the crew is another example of the attention paid to detail to give the flight every chance of success. Each member of the ship's complement was provided with two complete suits of silk underclothing. One this modern gear, similar to that provided for submarine crews and divers, was worn.

The Pulling of Michael's Mount.

The pulling of Joy bells in the year 1919 has made up for many years of silence in the ancient bellies of Europe. Somebody declares that on the occasion of the peace the one remaining bell of St. Michael's Mount on the Breton coast, should not have been rung. There would have been a certain plausibility in heeding the clanging of that bell, the gift in 1711 of the abbot from across the Rhine who, he said, belonged at the Mount only by proxy. But St. Mich. Mount is not its bell even the a. of a bell which used to warn and guide the fishermen out on the bay has ceased to ring. The old abbot's pul was long indeed, during the Hundred Years' War, warning the countryside of the approach of the enemy, in the Revolution the order went forth that the bells should be melted down, but it was never carried out. In the intervening years all the bells have disappeared except the one given by the German dignitary.

Deer Increasing in California.

Though the game reserve established in the greater portion of the Angeles forest reserve in California, which includes the San Bernardino and Sierra Madre Mountains, has been in existence but two years, wild deer are multiplying rapidly, according to forestry officials. It is believed that within a few years great herds of deer will be roaming the hills. Deer have been on the verge of extermination in the Southern California mountains, but establishment of the preserve is protecting the herds. Even now deer often appear along the boundary lines of the restricted area, and at times wander into cities near the foothills, seeming to be very tame. The forestry service will establish special patrols along the reserve during the coming hunting season to see that the law is not violated.—Christian Science Monitor.

Good-by, Dobbin.

Figures compiled by the New York sanitary bureau of the department of health and reported by Harry T. Gardner, secretary of the Automobile Dealers' association, show a great decrease in the number of stables, and, naturally, in the numbers of horses occupying them. In 1917 there were 108,000 horses. The most recent figures show a shrinkage of 32,936 horses. Chicago, too, shows a falling off in the registration of horse-drawn vehicles under the wheel tax law. In the four years ended May 1, this year, the number of such vehicles decreased from 49,882 to 32,489. This diminution of about 34 per cent compared with New York's falling off of about 30 per cent.

Publicity Promotion.

"My dear," said the caller, in a stage whisper, "it came to me in strict confidence and you mustn't breathe a word to a living soul! It is the most sacred communication. Promise me? Well, they say that—"

And as she left the house five minutes later she smiled and said to her imposter self:

"Well, thank goodness, now I've got THAT published!"

SOCIALISTS
STRONG IN ITALY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rome, Nov. 18.—The Socialists polled an extremely heavy vote in the national parliamentary election and it is believed that 150 Socialist candidates for the chamber of deputies were elected, according to returns received today from various cities.

The Socialist majority in the north was very big, while other Socialist majorities were reported from Milan, Florence, Mantua, Lodi, Genoa, Gallarate, Perugia, Pesaro and Arezzo. The Socialists polled a heavy vote in this city, electing a number of their candidates.

In northern Italy the patriotic (government) ticket ran second; the Catholic third, and the "combatants" fourth.

Among the prominent candidates elected to the chamber were Premier Nitti, Minister Tedesco, Former Premier Salandra, Former Foreign Minister Orlando, Former Premier Giolitti, Signor Bacelli, Former Minister Bissolati, Signor Sacchi and Signor Luzatti.

"Y" TOSSERS
BEAT RHINEBECK

Saturday night a team representing the Y. M. C. A. took a trip across the Hudson and played the Rhinebeck Five off their feet in a fast and rough game of basketball, with a final score of 19-13.

Although the boys "across the river" led in the first half with a score of 8-5, they soon dropped back to second place in scoring and the Kingstonians had it all their way in the second half.

It is expected that a return game will be played in this city at the Y. M. C. A. some time in the very near future.

AT THE THEATRES.

Bathing Beauties Here in Person Tomorrow.

"The Gray Wolf's Ghost," by Henry B. Warner, will be presented at Keeney's tonight. Also Kinogram News, Mutt and Jeff cartoons and travel scenes on Mt. Washington.

Vivian Martin, the dainty Paramount favorite, will be seen in her latest picture for that company, entitled, "Little Comrade," at the Auditorium today. Like all of Miss Martin's pictures this one is a light and pretty offering containing a story of considerable charm. Tomorrow "His Father's Wife."

The premier in San Francisco of Mack Sennett's new film comedy, "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," was the inception of his novelty and J. R. Gardiner the largest distributor of independent productions in the east immediately purchased the rights to this great picture and then persuaded Mack Sennett to allow the personal appearance of his Bathing Beauties at the premier in Buffalo. The result will be a perfect symphony of popular excitement at the Kingston Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday, three times daily. In beautiful illuminated posings and an elaborately staged act, the girls will appear just as they are seen in "Yankee Doodle in Berlin" and the Sennett comedies. California fruits are renowned and these peaches are said to be the very top of the basket. As for the picture, it is called the last word in Sennett cleverness in burlesque.

"A Night in Honolulu," in this latest play from the pen of Howard McKent Barnes, which comes to the Kingston Opera House next Saturday, matinee and night, the author has made a number of radical changes in the unfolding of the story of life in Hawaii. Not the least of which is the characterization of the Americans seen in the play. Some of the most successful plays on this subject have sought fit to either ridicule the Americans or else make him a cad and money grabber. In "A Night in Honolulu" the American is seen as a human being capable of sympathy and ability to deal squarely. One can see this play and leave with the comfortable impression of the strong protecting the weak. Of intelligence guiding non-intelligence. Surely a welcome innovation. The sale of seats will open on Thursday, while mail order may be sent in anytime.

"Ravished Belgium" will be the subject of a lecture by Lieut. R. E. Sylvester, late of the U. S. A., at the Opera House Friday, matinee at 4 p. m., and evening at 8:15 o'clock.

BASKETBALL, FRIDAY.

Exhibition Game By St. Peter's Glee Club.

Friday night, November 21, will mark the opening of the basketball season at St. Peter's Hall. The game is an exhibition between the members of the Young Men's Glee Club of St. Peter's parish, a dance will follow the game, the game will start promptly at eight o'clock.

The lineup is as follows:
Thurin, Bailey, Dittus and Dittmar. Forwards, Stout and Keough. Centers, Bott, Spader, Miller and Belcher. Guards.
"Matty" Bence a former Hudson River League Star will officiate. A large attendance is expected as an excellent court has been put up in the hall.
Molloy's orchestra will furnish all music for dancing.

Father Francis Kelly INTERVIEW.

Father Francis A. Kelly, known as the "fighting chaplain" of the A. E. F., was appointed Chaplain-in-Chief of the American Legion at Minneapolis. Father Kelly was attached to the One Hundred and Fourth Machine Gun Battalion overseas, and twice has been decorated for bravery. He wears the American Distinguished Service Cross and the British Distinguished Service Cross. He was also cited for his untiring efforts to aid the wounded while under heavy fire at Romoront, France.

Pins and Needles.
After being for a long time in a constrained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking is often felt in the arm, the leg or the foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation of the blood and can usually be removed by rubbing or exercise. The reason for this sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed (as in straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body) sensibility gradually returns to the nerve and as each nerve resumes its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt, and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not loosely been called "pins and needles."

Give Them a Chance.

Common sense tells us that the boy with the "schooling" develops into a far more competent journeyman than the youth who did not go through the grammar grades. Therefore, the parents who would fit their children to face life, and at living wages, will strain many points—in fact, will gladly make the sacrifices—in order to keep their children at school, and thus give them something better than a mere fighting chance.—New York Evening Telegram.

Good to Be Done.

That which is good to be done, even not the done now sound; and if it is neglected in the done ends, it will frequently happen that it will not be done at all.—Bishop Mann.

Vital Step.

"I have crossed the rubicon," murmured the woman who had just quarreled with her red-faced cook.
